This webinar will feature three expert panelists who will address the following in a virtual Fireside Chat with CAFII Executive Director Keith Martin:

- Are Canadians travelling more, less, or the same amount in 2024 relative to recent years?
- Are Canadians heavier travellers than people from other countries?
- What has changed from pandemic days around travel and travel insurance?
- How are travel insurance packages changing? How is the market evolving?
- Have Canadian habits changed around travel insurance—are Canadians more aware of the risks of travelling without travel health insurance?
- A challenge for Canadians is packed hospitals and shortages of beds. How does this impact Canadians who have travel insurance and need to be repatriated for illness?
- Have the travel aspirations of Canadians changed? – for example, desiring more experience-oriented or thematic travel?
- What developments do you see around travel and travel insurance in 2024?
